

RIDICULOUS CONTROVERSY.

The partisan attacks being made on the two gubernatorial candidates in this State smack more of absolute child's play than anything else.

The two candidates now before the people are men of absolutely unimpeachable records, both in business and private life. It is therefore undignified and puerile to trump up petty charges against either, and throw dust because one cannot throw mud.

Some of our Republican contemporaries are charging Theodore Winters with being a horse breeder, and our Democratic contemporaries charge that Colcord is not a friend of labor and only pays taxes on $1600.

There is nothing in the breeding of fine stock that is inconsistent with gubernatorial qualifications, and it is equally nonsensical to urge that a man's ability to handle a State government should be gauged by the figures set opposite his name on the tax roll.

Both Colcord and Winters have resided over thirty years in Nevada, and not a breath has been ever wafted over the sagebrush against their standing as honorable men.

The charge that Colcord is not a friend of labor has fallen so flat that no one but a few Democratic editors echo it. Good responsible Democrats admit that it is groundless and ridiculous.

No sensible Republican holds that Winters is disqualified for the position he seeks because he has been a successful breeder of turf horses.

It is clear, therefore, that the fight resolves itself to a question of the political principles that these two men represent.

The Republican party has for many years given this State an economical and conservative government. That salaries of State officers are high and the number of useless deputies a matter of general comment is no special fault of either party. The laws which allow these extravagances were placed on the statute books years ago and endorsed by both parties.

While the Democratic press is denouncing the high salaries and sinecure deputyships, the Democratic party is straining every nerve to get its hands on those same high salaried positions, deputyships and all.

With 1200 Republican majority in Nevada, the Democrats can only win by the corrupt expenditure of money at the polls, and as the platform expressly denounces such a procedure, we cannot see how the Democratic Central Committee can allow the sack raised by Messrs. Winters, Mason and Saddle to be used in that way.

It is certain that nothing has taken place in the management of our State Government to cause any Republican to desert his party.

With all campaign lousiness and groundless charges swept aside as purely extraneous matter, about 200 Republican soreheads will vote the Democratic ticket, and about the same number of dissatisfied Democrats will vote the Republican ticket.

This element always neutralizes itself on election day, and Colcord will be elected by 1000 majority in November, and this result will in no way be affected by the senseless discussion now going on in the partisan newspapers of this State.

The Board of Commissioners for the care of the Insane have employed Tremore Coffin to further persecute and prosecute the Reno Reduction works. The money to carry on this senseless and comes out of the appropriation for the care of the insane, and we think the money could be put to a much better use than crushing out so important an industry.—Gazette.

The attempt on the part of the State to ruin the Reno Reduction property and cinch William Thompson will fail. If the Assessor Commissioners are acting in good faith, then they might as well understand that they are being used as a cat's paw by parties in Reno, who, not willing to risk their own money in crushing Thompson, have concocted a scheme by which the State will pungle the cost of litigation if the scheme fails. The scheme will fail.
